Inside Story: EUFOR Members Save a Local Young Man

By José M. Méndez
I wish to thank EUFOR FORUM magazine for the opportunity to write this foreword and introduce myself to all readers.

I am a Spanish Marine and I am the Commander of the Landing Artillery Group, in our main base Tercio de Armada, since September 2008. For current Operation Althea, I have been appointed as the Commander of the EUFOR Multinational Battalion (MNBN) and I took over command responsibilities since April 21st. This is my first operation in BiH, and I am glad to join EUFOR and participate with you all in contributing to the safe and secure environment in this country.

During these two months as MNBN COMMANDER, I have been able to check in several exercises that the MNBN running well, mainly due to the enthusiasm and professionalism of its component parts. In this sense, I do not want to lose the opportunity to recognize the work that is carrying out by my staff and Units leaders.

The MNBN manpower is near 500 personnel, drawn from four nations, Hungary, Poland, Spain and Turkey. Such a multinational force reflects the strength of the International Community and also demonstrates the support of every one of these nations to the EU effort in BiH. The MNBN is organized into four companies (Coy.), one Coy for each nation, and also includes a Spanish Marines Recce Platoon and a multinational headquarters led by Spain.

Our MNBN is equipped and trained with the weapons, vehicles and equipment that give us capability to maneuver in all BiH Operations Area in support of the local Authorities and other EU actors to ensure the safe and secure environment.

Finally, I wish all of you good luck in your mission here in BiH and a safe return to your home upon completion of your tours.
The spring is when the earth comes back to life after a long cold winter, and it is in the spring when the green world begins to return after its winter slumber as this edition would like to. The power of spring and its regenerative effects were directly experienced by a celebration of renewal and new life. As a matter of fact people at LOT house Teslic were overjoyed by the power of spring and the beauty of bringing back to life the young man from Bosnia and Herzegovina they had rescued. The initial pieces picture COM’s very busy month, respectively, receiving distinguished guests and visiting the people in the field; they invite discreetly to meditate on the possible future options of our mission. Further, Captain Karolina Krawina’s account of the Polish EOD Platoon is framed and narrated to provide us with a close look at methods and techniques of EOD teams from five different countries. You’ll also find insights into the hand over of LOT Bijeljina, Brcko and Gradacac of our Finnish colleagues.

On the other side of the country Captain Machin investigates how the Spanish contingent has honoured the fallen soldiers. And to put it all in perspective Staff Sergeant Francisco Mocas weighs in with his own commentary on the MNBN LiveEx “Solid Citizen”. The so called PIFWIC Operations command the attention of many of the contributors to this volume. Wing Commander Mark Attrill offers a study of EUFOR’s contribution to these operations.

If you’ve been feeling slightly off, acutely apprehensive or flat-out frightened for your physical shape there is nothing like the coming of the spring season for the avid hiker to go back to his favorite trails that are no longer impassable due to snow, but still be aware of mines and do not challenge any off track walking. And more, for the outdoor sports enthusiast check the article on the football match that saw the EUFOR team challenging EU Council team and the “Run to the Hills” on Mount Igman. Meanwhile, our website, http://www.euforbih.org, offers a live read and a rich photogallery on everything from operational matters to live exercises. You’ll find breaking news, thoughtful analysis - and humor too provided by our Finnish colleagues, because business doesn’t have to be boring.

Enjoy, and let us know what you’re thinking - you can email me at giovanni.ramunno@eufor.eu.int. This volume concludes as usual with our Soldiers in the Spotlight and the Photo Corner with breathtaking pictures of innocent beauties provided by our contributing and faithful readers.

Lt Col Giovanni Ramunno

LOT Teslic members save a life

9th June – Four soldiers from LOT Teslic were spending their after-duty hours relaxing at lake Goransko which is near Doboj. However, at around 16:00h they noticed strange movement among the group of young boys that were swimming on the other side of the lake. It turned out that one of them was missing in the water.

The LOT members immediately jumped into the waters of the lake and began their search. They managed to find the young man underwater and to get him out but he was in a life threat, as he spent more than 5 minutes under water. He had no pulse and his skin had turned violet. They called the ambulance and began the resuscitation process while they were waiting for the help to arrive. It was solely through their efforts that the young man managed to survive as they kept reviving him for 20 minutes and managed in getting his heart to work again.

The young man was moved from the hospital in Doboj to the clinic in Banja Luka, but eventually the young man got better and there are currently no signs of permanent damage – all thanks to the brave soldiers from LOT Teslic!

22nd May - The Regional Coordination Centre (RCC) 4 arranged International Shooting Competition followed by a Liaison Observation Team (LOT) Conference.

The day started with a lesson of precautionary measures given by RCC4 HQ WO2 Gerald Weihs who had prepared an interesting Combat Shooting Competition which lasted almost five hours. This event allowed people the opportunity to use different weapons from each contributing country.

During the LOT Conference the RCC4 Operations Officer, Major Emil Kert covered operational issues, and an update on Hand-Over/Take-Over routines. The Portuguese LOT Coordinator, Major Alberto Correia gave feedback from his area and an overview about the new reporting system which is in place to pass information back to EUFOR HQ. 3rd June - The helicopters of the Slovakian contingent of EUFOR flew out of Camp Butmir to return to Slovakia. After years spent contributing to Operation ALTHEA goals and objectives, Slovakian heli detachment is withdrawing from the mission.

The final briefing of Slovakian helicopter crews was given by their Commander the day before, on the 2nd June. However, the helicopters were forced to remain on ground due to the poor weather conditions. When the weather finally cleared on 3rd June, Slovakian helicopters took off from Camp Butmir heli pad for the last time.

In the words of one of the departing Slovaks, “it was a pleasure and a privilege for us to serve in EUFOR and we will take with us many fond memories of our colleagues that are staying in Bosnia and Herzegovina”.

Slovakians still retain a number of troops as part of EUFOR and continue to contribute to the mission.

3rd June - The Multinational Battalion (MNBN) conducted a combined exercise in the training area of Rajlovac on 3rd and 4th June. The scenario was based on a hypothetical mission to support local authorities and police after an incident and protests led by radicals following the arrest of a Person Indicted For War Crimes (PIFWC).

The exercise was in two distinct phases. In the first phase, reconnaissance and planning, the Command Unit of the Battalion had a recce aircraft, with system AGSR (Airborne Geophysical and Sensing Remote), which provided real time images of the area of operations.

In the second phase, the units of manoeuvre battalion acted on the ground trying to avoid disruptions caused by the rioters. The manoeuvre battalion configured them as units of CRC (Crowd and Riot Control) and used the necessary procedures ensuring that ROE’s (Rules of Engagement) were adhered to strictly. These units were led by an element of Command and Control (C2) on board a helicopter that operates at all times on the hot zone.

During the exercise there were several incidents including various IED’s (Improvised Explosives Devices) which needed the expertise of the EOD (Explosive Ordnance Disposal) teams, as well as actions of MEDEVAC (Medical Evacuations) by helicopter. The exercise was a complete success and fully challenged all of the teams in their area of expertise.

COM EUFOR visits AFBIH demining sites
In Archer Base in Camp Butmir international engineering training course took place. All EUFOR Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD) Teams demonstrated their operation rules in minefield terrain.

First phase of this training was meeting with EOD platoon leaders from Poland, Turkey, Spain, Albania and Ireland and crystallizing the training aims. After that there was a short briefing about the mine threat in BiH. Instructors tried to describe all types of mines that were used during the war 1992-1995.

Next very important item was demonstration of minefield lane marker and engineering equipment from each country. One of the practice issue realized by Poles and Albanians was performing a minefield lane and medical evacuation of injured. Evacuation of vehicle from minefield has given rise to discussion. It was a good opportunity to an exchange of views and experiences.

A culminating point of the EOD training was demonstration of soldiers evacuation from minefield. The instructor of this group was WO Adam Banasiak from Polish EOD Team. Both he and another sapper emphasized that it is the most important element of sapper training. Its main aim was to make everybody aware of mine threat.

At the end JMA Chief Lt Col Hermann Lattacher stated that this international EOD Teams training was successful and gave many experiences for sappers of each country.

The special thanks went to WO Banasiak from Chief MICS Peter Devereux for his well done work and professionalism. This international training of sappers from 5 country was doubtless the confirmation of saying: One mission one team.

PIFWC Operations - An Explanation

To date 161 individuals have been indicted for War Crimes in the former Yugoslavia and today, only two remain at large including General Ratko Mladic. In accordance with our current mandate, EUFOR is one of the organizations here in Bosnia i Herzegovina that has a responsibility to help the ICTY search for the two remaining PIFWCs.

Much of the work involved in EUFOR PIFWC Operations is classified and cannot be openly discussed although short reports in previous editions of EUFOR Forum have probably left some readers wondering what these operations achieve and what our overall role is.

I decided it was time to expose EUFOR readers to some of the background to these operations and the important supporting role that many personnel play “behind the scenes”. I think you may be surprised at just how many organizations and individuals within Camp Butmir contribute to the success of this key EUFOR Mission.

The United Nations International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia (ICTY) is ultimately responsible for the investigation and trial of a Person Indicted for War Crimes (PIFWCs). The ICTY is a small organization that relies upon the support of several international agencies to assist in the search for and detention of PIFWCs.

One of the reasons that these PIFWCs remain free is the presence of a large regional support network. The disruption of the support network that exists in BiH is one of the main goals for EUFOR during our PIFWC operations. A considerable amount of information is required before we can consider an operation. Once the ICTY are content that a positive lead has been established, EUFOR may be asked to assist with the mounting of an operation. We are fortunate enough to retain the capability, within both our Integrated Police Unit (IPU) and the Multi-National Battalion (MNBN), to execute “Search and Seizure” Operations within a safe and secure environment.

The majority of operations con-
Conducted by EUFOR involve the seizure of material and the interview of individuals that may help with investigations into the PIFWC support network. We also aim to help local authorities in developing their own capabilities and work closely with our colleagues from the Specialized Element of the RS MuP (Republika Srpska Ministry of Interior Police).

A typical operation starts with the creation of a safe and secure environment in which to conduct a search operation, using both our own IPU Specialized Element and the RS MuP. The actual search operation can be very involved, taking many hours. At the same time ICTY may interview occupants at the scene. Once the operation is complete, seized material is transported, normally by helicopter, to the NATO DOCEX, which assists with the exploitation process. Everyone needs to be protected, transported and fed, which involves elements of the IPU, MNBn, FP Coy, Transcoy, the Catering staff and Air Ops all under the co-ordination of IAD and the JOC – It is a true team effort the reflects well on the skill, co-operations and dedication of EUFOR personnel.

The event was attended by Colonel Monbelli-Valloire, the EUFOR French Senior National Representative, Her Excellency Mrs. Maryse Berniau, the French Ambassador in Bosnia and Herzegovina and Mr. Dzlindo the General Manager of the Skenderija Centre Sarajevo.

During the ceremony, two children from the French School of Sarajevo unveiled a plaque on Skenderija square that says “little spot of France” (Place de France). This symbolises the starting point of the academic cooperation between the French Embassy the Sarajevo Architecture University and Paris Architecture Academy (La Villette).

The attendees were then invited to watch a 5-a-side football match between a local professional football team and members of the French Contingent. In the friendly match the two sides played well with the locals displaying their skill and modesty by drawing the game at 5-5.

There was a presentation of gifts to both Her Excellency Mrs Berniau, the French Ambassador in Bosnia and Herzegovina and Mr Dzlindo the General Manager of the Skenderija Centre Sarajevo from Colonel Monbelli-Valloire in a display of his appreciation of the support they have given during the French Contingents mission in Sarajevo.

How long have you been in EUFOR?
This is actually my second mission in Bosnia and Herzegovina. First time I was here was from August 2006 to December 2006. I arrived on my second mission here in March this year. Also, since November 2004, I am the 14th representative of Luxembourg in EUFOR.

Why did you choose to come for your second mission?
For me it is very interesting to work in this kind of multinational environment as it is very different from what I am used to.

What is it like to be the sole representative of Luxembourg in EUFOR?
As I am the only one from my country, I find that it makes it easier for me to establish contacts with people because there is a lot of interest in Luxembourg. It is an honour for me and I am proud to represent my country.

How do you spend your free time?
I travel a lot, especially during Sundays (laughs). I also like to hike on the mountains and that is what I have been doing in my free time in BiH recently. With a guide of course!

Where did you enjoy yourself the most?
Mostar, of course. I was also very impressed by Jajce and its waterfalls. Also the remote villages in the mountains that I recently visited were very interesting.

Name one interesting thing about Luxembourg that our readers most likely do not know?
Everyone in Luxembourg speaks four languages: our mother tongue, English French and German.
Spanish Commemoration

Ceremony of fallen soldier

31st May - The ceremony of remembrance to those Spanish soldiers who gave their lives to the mission in Bosnia and Herzegovina was held in “Spanish Square” in Mostar.

Ceremony that commenced at 12:30 hours, was led by Deputy Commander EUFOR, BG Jose Carrasco and was also attended by MNBN Commander, Lt Col Angel Ramos-Izquierdo, the representative of Spanish Ambassy in BiH Manuel Nuche, as well as civil and military authorities of Mostar.

On arrival, DCOM EUFOR received military honours from one Spanish Platoon and one honor squad.

The event started with Spanish flag being hoisted under the hymn of Spain. Afterward while the names of the 23 Spanish soldiers fallen were remembered, the honor squad together with pennants and banners came closer toward the memorial monument. Next, everybody sang the song “The death is not the end” and the laurel crown was deposited in the commemorative plaque.

When concluding the ceremony, General Carrasco highlighted the important work that is being carried out in this country and Mr Manuel Nuche invited all the people to a toast for H.M. the king and for Spain.

Austrian NSE Employee

Adisa Custovic

How long have you been working in EUFOR?

I have been with EUFOR and the Austrian NSE who employ me for a year now. Before that I used to work in various shops in Sarajevo.

How did you start working in EUFOR?

I was unemployed for a month and looking for a job when I heard that the Austrian NSE was looking for someone to help them with housekeeping. I applied and got the job and haven’t looked back since.

How do you feel about your job?

I am very happy with my job. My employers have been most wonderful to me, both on a personal and professional level. They are very correct and fair. I also appreciate the Austrians and their mentality a lot and I enjoy working for them.

How do you relax in your free time?

I just enjoy staying home with my husband and son. I also enjoy movies a lot - especially the classic ones.

Can you tell us what your favourite classic movie is then?

“Gone with the wind”, no doubt about it. (laughs) I have seen it at least 6-7 times, probably more.

Where will you spend your summer holidays?

In Makarska, Croatia. I will do a little bathing, a little tanning, a little walking... I like to mix it all together.

Can you recommend a nice place to walk through in Sarajevo for our readers?

“Vilsonovo setaliste”, definitely the nicest in Sarajevo.
In the Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia a little girl at the age of three, named Despina, can’t wait to see her dad again. OF-1 Sebastian Kirleis, Aide de camp (ADC) to COS EUFOR BG Löwenstein, is better known as Willi. But, known by only a few people within EUFOR, Willi is simply his middle name and not a nickname.

He was born on the 27th October 1982 in Mönchengladbach as son of a career officer and a teacher. Although he had to resettle for several times in his childhood, Sebastian liked the impressions of his fathers job and wanted to become an officer in the German Armed Forces too. So right after he finished high school he graduated the Air Force Academy in Fürstenfeldbruck and then finished a Master in Business and Economics from 2003 to 2007 at the University of the German Armed Forces in Munich.

After six months of preparation in Fort Bliss El Paso, Texas, where the German school for ground based air defense is located, he is now a tactical control and recce officer within the ground based air defense system PATRIOT from SAM WING 1 in the northern part of Germany.

In his private live he loves to travel, to see many countries and to get to know new people from all over the world as well as their different cultures.
