It is a great honour for me to have been appointed by my country as Deputy Commander of EUFOR for the next six months.

It’s good to be back in BiH. I left this country after working here as a member of UNPROFOR in 1994 and 1995. Now I return and start my post in EUFOR.

I am proud to be here again, now as Deputy Commander, several years after the EU has taken on new responsibilities, which has brought peace, stability and security. Of course, it is a different BiH from 14 years ago. Today, the Balkans start to be part of the European Union.

I would like to pay tribute to BG Diaz del Rio for having handed over to me the position of DCOM EUFOR in such good shape. He has accomplished his mission perfectly. I hope to continue his work with the same diligence and wish him good luck in his new post in Spain.

As the Deputy Commander I will fully support every decision taken by the Commander and I will endeavor to loyally fulfill every task entrusted to me. The Commander can count on my dedication, commitment and effort in carrying out his commands.

On the other hand I will respect the job of the staff, who continue to ‘carry the torch’. The HQ staff is very dedicated to Operation ALTHEA, being at all times flexible, hard-working and absolutely professional. Their work is crucial. These are quality people who work every day with total dedication. I would like to take this ideal opportunity to thank the Chief of Staff of EUFOR for his personal and unfailing collaboration. We will work together in pursuit of the common goal of supporting the future way ahead of BiH.

Our goal, as written in our mission, is to contribute to the safe and secure environment in BiH. But we should not neglect that we must also support this country on its way to reach membership of the EU and other international organizations. The presence of EUFOR reflects the engagement of the International Community with the transition of BiH in becoming a modern and integrated European country.

I fully believe in the personnel of EU and non-EU countries involved in this mission. I should also remember EUFOR personnel, men and women, who have made the sacrifice to secure peace and stability in Bosnia and Herzegovina far away from home; I would like to recognize their courage and sacrifice.

My country is fully engaged in BiH. The proof of that is no more apparent than the fact that 23 Spanish soldiers have given their lives in BiH since 1992. From these pages I would like to honour those who have made the ultimate sacrifice in the cause of peace.

The Spanish contribution to EUFOR is an example of its commitment with the EU policy in the Balkans and with the development of a European Security and Defence Policy in accordance with its capacities and possibilities.

In the short time I have been here, I have been impressed by the quality and level of knowledge and expertise of all the military and civilian personnel. In my opinion, you are all excellent ambassadors for your countries. Your outstanding dedication and professionalism are examples of how to serve your country and the international community.

It will be a privilege for me to work side by side with local and International Authorities for the complete stabilization of BiH. The Authorities and people of BiH are making important progress in achieving a permanent peace in the region. Let me especially express my appreciation for the close cooperation established with the AFBiH, who are another important element in the complete stabilization of the country.

Finally, I would like to express my thanks to you all for your support and effort, and may I wish you all a very successful mission during your stay in Bosnia and Herzegovina.
This new edition as usual brings into focus the continuous relationship between EUFOR and the diplomatic community and the several visits to EUFOR HQ where they pay official calls on COM EUFOR, Major General Stefano Castagnotto. Diplomatic representatives all underlined that EUFOR positively contributes to the safe and secure environment in BiH, it continues to provide reassurance on the ground and is maintaining its long-term commitment to Bosnia. EUFOR's operational focus remains the transfer of Joint Military Affairs tasks to the relevant national authorities and this is why much of the focus has been this month dedicated to the positive trend of the hand over of functions and responsibilities process to the Armed Forces and Governmental bodies related to security of BiH. As a matter of fact we provided you the unique opportunity to accompany for three days EUFOR Joint Military Affairs team inspecting facilities in the country.

Further, take a look at our colleagues’ activities in the LOT houses.

Furthermore, the astronomical start of summer is just days away, with the summer solstice occurring at 5:04 a.m., Sunday, June 21 but still the weather was not so clement; this did not prevent our people to organize or participate to sports’ events reinforcing our close thighs with the local population throughout the country.

Finally allow us to recommend to all those drivers returning to Camp Butmir, especially at week ends, queue at Ilidza under the hot July sun to enter Sarajevo arriving from the many country sites where they were seeking relief from the hot temperature to drive safely and avoid situations potentially dangerous for driving.

I wish to thank once more Forum’s loyal readers for their contributions and support. The magazine is dedicated to them, with love.

Sincerely,
Lt Col Giovanni Ramunno

Act of Bravery Performed by Members of LOT Teslic

2nd July - COM EUFOR, Major General Stefano Castagnotto and his Excellency the Ambassador of Poland, Mr Andrej Tyszkiewicz, paid a visit to the Liaison Observation Team (LOT) house at Teslic to personally congratulate the team members who saved the life of Ljubisa Janjic. They also presented them all with a letter of appreciation for their act of bravery.

On the 9th June, Major Dojas, Warrant Officer Garbowski, Warrant Officer Madej and Warrant Officer Grzeszczak who are all assigned to LOT house Teslic, were out in the countryside in the local area when they found themselves rescuing a young man. He was drowning in the cold waters of the same lake that had been so tranquil moments before. For the Soldiers there was no time to call for help so they all dived into the water to pull the young man out. In doing this they were able to use skills gained from the basic life support course they had undertaken in their basic training in Poland.

The young Ljubisa had lost his vital signs so the rescuers had to revive him. It took twenty never-ending minutes before he started breathing and his heart was beating again.

After a short spell in Banja Luka hospital, Ljubisa is now being taken care of by medical staff in Doboj hospital. He is now recovering well with the support of his friends and family. Over the last few weeks he has appreciated the opportunity to meet his rescuers.

From the 15th to the 18th June 2009, the Multinational Battalion (MNBN) conducted an exercise in Pazaric area. The first two days were the planning phase and the exercise was conducted on the 18th June.

This exercise is part of the training scheduled by MNBN in which all companies of the battalion, monitored by the Command Post (CP), cooperate with the International Police Unit (IPU), AGSR plane and Helicopter Units.

The exercise included simulations of a mass march, a Persons Indicted for War Crimes (PIFWC) detention, a MEDEVAC operation and support to the Local Enforcement Authorities (LEA). During the exercise the MNBN Training Branch added several additional incidents to check the reaction of the Units.

The activity was performed in four phases. The first phase was to control the Units, the Recce Team was infiltrated in order to get information about PIFWC. The QRF Platoon, IPU Special Element, with Company’s A and D were prepared to be deployed by road to Assembly Areas (AA).

In the second phase all Units were deployed, while Recce Teams secured the AA and the Spanish provided close protection to OHR. During the third phase the Company’s conducted control area operations and Civil disturbance operations in support of LEA. QRF Platoon provided support to IPU Special Element while the Special Element itself conducted an arrest operation taking the detainee back to Camp Butmir by Helicopter. All these actions happened with the support of live information from AGSR plane.

This complex exercise was well executed thanks to an strong communications network in conjunction with the essential information systems that facilitated MNBN Commander, to easily command and control all deployed units.

A win-win situation for Armed Forces BiH and EUFOR

For a couple of years now many functions and responsibilities, in which IFOR/SFOR/EUFOR had the lead, have been handed over to the Armed Forces BiH or other Bosnian authorities.

One of the important matters for the continuation of a Safe and Secure Environment are mine-clearance activities, which are completely under the responsibility of the BiH Mine Action Centre (BHMAC), a department of the Ministry of Civil Affairs.

The BHMAC uses a two-pillar system which includes commercial demining companies and AFBiH authorities on the other.

Since 1995, the AFBiH have the lead in this area and continue to rid BiH of mines.

With EUFOR monitoring and advising in this area, there is substantial co-operation with AFBiH, who continue to clear BiH territory of Mines and Unexploded Ordnance throughout the year.

In the area of ammunition and weapons storage-sites and their management, the AFBiH work closely together with EUFOR/JMA to solve the problem of more than 30,000 tons of mostly surplus ammunition. In a lot of cases this ammunition is unsafe and/or unstable.

The capacity of ammunition technical specialists, internal inspection teams of AFBiH and destruction facilities increase every year.

A lot of work must still be accomplished in the following years, and the disposal capacity should continue to grow, but from 1995 to 2008, the AF BiH capability to take over more and more responsibilities had never been questioned.

Much progress has also been achieved in the area of Military Movement Control. This has included the establishment of the Military Movement Control Center in DOBOJ and the continued education of the experts in this field and the ongoing cooperation with EUFOR JMA, has significantly increased this AFBiH capability.

Other tasks of Joint Military Affairs EUFOR, such as the destruction of harvested items and the inspection of defence industry factories, are now the responsibility of the BiH institutions. The Civilian Movement Control will also transfer in a few months. EUFOR JMA provides assistance, advice and monitoring in all these fields.

Every day, the AFBiH and EUFOR JMA work closely together, in order to reach all final goals for a self-sustainable country. The progress that was achieved in these areas is significant and contributes to a safe and secure environment.

Three days with a Joint Military Affairs Inspection Team

One of the main tasks of Joint Military Affairs (JMA) is civilian movement control of weapons and military equipment under which the inspection of Defense Industry Factories (DIFs) and private traders are carried out on a regular basis. The EUFOR Press Office accompanied one inspection team on a three day trip to gain an insight into this task.

It is Wednesday, 1 July 2009, 0700hrs, cloudy sky. Location Camp Butmir, Sarajevo. Major Richard Sperling, JMA Movement Control officer and Dejan Vickovic, JMA Technical Specialist/Liaison Officer to BiH finished their last minute preparations before departing by car. 234km on Bosnian roads are waiting for them to reach their destination of Banja Luka, where they will conduct the first inspection on their planned three day visit. After leaving Sarajevo, the team is joined by Russian paratrooper Colonel Yuri Padun, who works as Arms Control Implementation Officer within the OSCE. The aim of the tour is to inspect three civilian companies, two of which are dealing with weapons and explosives, and the other is a defence industry factory.

There are approximately 30 defence industry factories as well as about 50 arms traders all over Bosnia and Herzegovina which have to be inspected or visited by EUFOR on a regular basis. Every factory and every dealer should be inspected or visited a minimum of four times a year. The main goal is to improve the security of the facilities, which is part of the EUFOR mission to establish a safe and secure environment.

At 1130hrs the team reaches the vicinity of Banja Luka, where they meet the first arms dealer in a sport shop. Funny location some might think, but it is very common in Bosnia that arms dealers also have a second profession. This dealer runs several sport shops in the Banja Luka area. After a short discussion about the situation on the market and the facility generally, the firearms shop, the warehouse, the shooting range as well as the outer perimeter were inspected. This dealer specialises in selling pistols and hunting rifles. Civilian companies as well as the local police are among his customers. The storehouse is full of ammunition, but the stock of weapons is very low. Major Sperling explains this “most of the companies have no stock, because they are ordering on request”. One of the biggest problems for the market is, that there are different laws on weapons in the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina and in the Republika Srpska.
Tuesday, 2 July 2009, 0815hrs. The owner of an explosives dealing company is meeting the JMA team lead them to his facilities which is 90km away from Banja Luka in a very remote area, where he stores the explosives. The team follow on curvy and narrow roads for an hour then after they leave the paved road and drive for another ten minutes to finally reach their destination. Surrounded by hills, the storage bunker is far away from all civilisation. Which seems an ideal underground location for the storage of ten tons of explosives. In the bunker, which is designed like a labyrinth for security reasons, it is cold and humid. The inspection team are content with the security measures at this site.

Due to the fact that EUFOR is in charge of a lot of administrative work in dealing with the movement of the explosives or arms, all dealers stated, that they “are very happy about the fast processing that EUFOR conducts, when it comes to administration”.

The team depart the area and head back to Banja Luka to visit the next station which is the defence industry factory KOSMOS. In former Yugoslavia radar overhauls were done by the company that had more than 1200 employees. Today the company has 290 employees, is owned by the Republika Srpska and produces mainly civilian gear. The reason for EUFOR to visit the site is that the company secured a contract with the Bosnian Ministry of Defence for maintaining 85 SA-6 “Gainful” rockets. (These Russian rockets were originally named 2K12 "Kub", which means cube).

Since June 2nd 1995 they are well known among pilots as the “three fingers of death”, because an American F16 was shot down by Bosnian Serbs in the no fly zone over Bosnia. The JMA team visited the maintenance facility as well inspecting the guarding infrastructure and the outer perimeter of the establishment. The factory still housed some very impressive reminders of the cold war military era.

On Friday, the last day of the inspection tour has come, the JMA Taem would be joined by EUFOR DCOM, Brigadier General Jose Carasco. They will all visit an explosives producing factory next to Prijedor. Local police secure the helipad which is crowded by excited local youths. After landing DCOM is welcomed by Major Sperling. Together with the Chief JMA, Colonel Peter Vorhofer the convoy heads factory to be inspected. The Manager of the company along with the Technical Director explain how explosives are produced in their factory. The remote warehouse is also inspected and everything seems to be in accordance with the law and DCOM and the JMA Chief are satisfied with the status of the facility.

After three days and a lot of driving, Major Sperling and Mr. Vickovic finish their inspection tour. They managed to visit all places according to their plan and found no major problems on the sites. Major Sperling said “Mission accomplished as we soldiers would say”.

Inside EUFOR

8th June - On Monday the 8 Jun 09 LOT BRATUNAC invited all local police stations in its area of authority (AOA), which includes BRATUNAC, SREBRENICA, MILICI, VLASENICA and SEKOVICI, for a shooting competition at the former military shooting range in KUSLAT. The purpose of the competition was to introduce LOT BRATUNAC and to get in closer contact with the local police after the expansion of the AOA due to the reorganisation of RCC4.

After the arrival of all participants and an explanation of the planned shooting sequences by OF-2 BOEGNER, the competition started with pistol shooting. The GLOCK 17, the pistol of Austrian origin used worldwide by military forces and police, was already well known by the police officers which meant that the shooting level was high with impressive scores being achieved.

Afterwards, the rifle competition took place. First, the police officers had doubts regarding the Austrian “plastic” rifle STEYR AUG 77. However, after having fired the first rounds, nearly all participants changed their minds due to the easy handling and the perfect accuracy of the assault rifle. As a consequence, it was hard to find a winner since the grand total of the police officers reached more than 190 points out of 200. While the scores were counted, OF-1 BICHLER and OR-7 BONACCORSO introduced the police officers to the Austrian machine gun MG 74 and some of them got the opportunity to fire some rounds. Finally LOT House Commander OF-3 TRAUSNITZ congratulated all winners. The competition ended with a barbecue where the Chiefs of Police of the Municipalities thanked the LOT for the invitation and the perfect organisation.

Your family?

Married in ROME to CATHERINE in 1981.
We have five children. Ages from 18 years to 24 years. two boys and three girls.

Your job?

Joined the IRISH Defence Forces in January 1971
This is my sixth mission overseas:

So the Bosnia and Herzegovina?

I came here in January 2009. I was really impressed by the facilities in Camp Butmir. I have travelled throughout Bosnia Herzegovina and I also discovered that the people are kind and good natured. I would like to do another mission here in the future.
And I hope that problems in the Country will be solved sooner rather than later.
I travel a lot during the day but when it is possible I am going by bike outdoor and throughout Camp Butmir.
When did you start working in EUFOR?
I started working for EUFOR - actually SFOR - some nine years ago. I can clearly remember that it was the birthday of my good friend and colleague Dzejna Skopljak on that same day.

What do you think EUFOR gave to you professionally?
EUFOR and my job here shaped me completely as a professional and as a person. When I first started working, I was quite young, some thirty years old, and through my work here I had the chance to experience and do things I know I would never get the chance of doing anywhere else.

Can you recall some funny moment from your work for us?
Well... I remember when an Irish gentleman, John ......, first came into Bosnia and Herzegovina. Still unaccustomed to driving on the left side of the road and our cars, he went into a car from a right side. He sat, raised his hands to grab the steering wheel... and just dropped them. Then he slowly looked around to see if anyone noticed him, got out and sat on the right side. Unfortunately for him, I saw all that. (laughs)
I was born in Madrid on February 9, 1972. Married to Susan, have two children, Sofia (22 months) and Alvaro (4 years).

His vocation is the military since childhood, conducted in 1991, the year in which entry into the Marine Corps Spanish, as a soldier. And then climb out in 1993 and 1st place in 1994.
