There are times when a rotation of personnel has a significant impact on the entire mission and this particularly is true when it occurs within the higher level of leadership. We would like to convey our best wishes for his future to Brigadier General András Szűcs on the occasion of his departure from EUFOR and to extend a warm welcome to Brigadier General Zoltán Mihócza.

After the completion of 14 months of service with Operation EUFOR Althea as the Chief of Staff HQ EUFOR, it finally was time for Brigadier General András Szűcs to say goodbye and to return to his home-base in Hungary.

He has now been replaced by his compatriot Brigadier General Zoltán Mihócza who formally assumed the duties as the Chief of Staff EUFOR during the official handover-takeover ceremony inside Camp Butmir on 30 April 2015.

During his speech at the ceremony General Mihócza, after wishing General Szűcs every success in his next assignment, said “I am extremely fortunate to take over the role of COS and to inherit the strong relationships General Szűcs has established during his tour. Looking forward my intention is to continue to develop those relationships and to improve and simplify the way we work in the EUFOR Headquarters so that we can become much more efficient in the execution of our Mission”.

Brigadier General Mihócza joins EUFOR from Hungary where he held the post of Deputy Chief of Staff, Joint Forces Command, Hungarian Defence Forces. From 2011 until 2013 he served as the Hungarian Military Representative to NATO and the EU Military Committees in Brussels.

General Sir, once again, a warm welcome to EUFOR from all of us.
Dear Readers,

Thank you to all of you who have been in touch with the Public Affairs Office keeping us informed of events in and out of Camp Butmir and providing us with information and photographs for articles.

The last 2 months have been busy with visits from General de Rousiers, the Bulgarian President and the new EUSR. We have also seen the HOTO of COS and a number of change of commands within Troop Contributing Nation.

As well as the visits, the CB&T section and the MNBN have also been busy and in the following pages, you can find details of the bridge reconstruction activities between EUFOR’s Mobile Training Teams and the Armed Forces BiH and an MNBN medical evacuation exercise.

This is my final editorial as I finish my tour at the beginning of June. The last 6 months have flown by and when I return to the UK I will take with me many happy memories from my short time in BiH and EUFOR.

Don’t forget that you can keep up with EUFOR news at www.facebook.com/euforbih and www.euforbih.org. And remember, this is your magazine so do let us know if you have any feedback on this issue.

The Armed Forces of Bosnia and Herzegovina are currently contributing successfully to peace support missions abroad and efficiently cooperating with other nations, which is an important contribution to the development of international crisis management. The Armed Forces also increased their capabilities and efforts to support local authorities and the people of BiH through disaster relief assistance and crisis management.

The bridge – a result of common engagement

The material for the bridge construction was funded by the EU Floods Recovery Program and managed by the United Nations Development Program. EUFOR training teams, consisting of engineering specialists from Hungary, mentored the Armed Forces BiH engineers who built it.

Dual use of forces is of special value

Engineering, in particular bridge building, is one of the skills that is of importance for assisting the population in disaster relief, international crisis management or in peace support operations. EUFOR, through its Capacity Building and Training Programme for the Armed Forces of BiH, supports this development.

The dual use of forces is the most economical way to run a military force.

CIS NATO Military Communication STANAGs Course

The purpose is to provide common operational and administrative procedures and logistics, so one member nation’s military may use the stores and support of another member’s military. STANAG also form the basis for technical interoperability between a wide variety of CIS essential for NATO and Allied operations.

EUFOR’s training system – train the trainer

The attendees of this course where trained by a Turkish Mobile Training Team (MTT). Such teams are provided by troop contributing nations for the time period of the training. Their task is to train future trainers of the AFBiH in order to assist the AFBiH to achieve a robust and self-sustainable training structure. The participants of this course are now ready to educate other personnel in this subject. During their first steps as new teacher, they will be mentored by EUFOR’s Mobile Mentoring Teams.

MNBN Medical Evacuation exercise

On the 16 March 2015 a medical evacuation (MEDEVAC) exercise was planned and conducted by the Multinational Battalion (MNBN) in the vicinity of Sarajevo. To ensure the exercise was as realistic as possible the actors, played by soldiers of the Austrian Coy, were made up to look injured, some with minor injuries and others with major injuries such as limb loss using fake blood and home-made props.

During the exercise soldiers reported the incidents to the tactical operation centre, located at Camp Butmir, where an assessment of the situation was made and if necessary the emergency helicopters, Alouette III and S-70 Blackhawk despatched. Both aircraft had the capability to reach the incident within minutes. The experienced pilots landed on the snow-covered Mount Igman (1500 m above sea level) to complete the MEDEVAC of the injured soldier.

Lieutenant Colonel Michael KÖCK, Commander of the MNBN, was pleased with the results of the exercise, saying, “MEDEVAC is the basis of our emergency procedures and must be trained at all costs. A Drop in the Ocean

Bosnia and Herzegovina – a sad and at the same time beautiful country full of contrasts. On the one hand it has kind and warm-hearted people, on the other hand, many people are living below the poverty line without the possibility to secure the basic needs required for their children to have a normal life.

One of the agencies which try to bring a spark of hope is The International Committee of the Red Cross in Foča. It is amazing to watch how a few enthusiasts fight to help despite all the obstacles.

That is why members of LOT Foča decided to help and collected a financial contribution to help the regional Red Cross in Foča represented by Ms Snežana Kovač. Red Cross workers bought the day to day necessities required such as food, toiletries and clothing for a family in need due to circumstances outside their control. On 23 March 2015, the aid was handed over to the family in Popov Most by LOT Foča Commander Major Jozef Trochan and Team Leader Captain Andrej Kukla accompanied by Ms Snežana Kovač.

Hopefully, this symbolic “drop in the ocean” will mean that hope dies last.

Head of the Delegation of the European Union to Bosnia and Herzegovina and EU Special Representative in Bosnia and Herzegovina, Ambassador Lars-Gunnar Wigemark and his wife Mrs Rebekah Naomi Wigemark visited the Memorial Park in Camp Butmir on 7 May 2015 and laid flowers at each of the memorials.

On a recent visit to Camp Butmir, Mrs Wigemark had the idea to place some flowers in the memorial park to acknowledge the sacrifices made by those to whom the garden is dedicated. The visit also came on the 70th anniversary of the end of World War Two. After speeches by Commander EUFOR, Major General Johann Luif and Ambassador Wigemark, Ms Wigemark accompanied by the respective EUFOR Senior National Representative laid flowers at each of the memorials.

The Memorial Park was the idea of American Colonel Ron Sketo, who was the EUFOR Headquarters Commandant from 2000 to 2001. He wanted the park to be a smaller version of the ‘Dayton Walk’ in the Dayton Ohio Airbase where the former leaders involved in the conflict signed the Dayton Agreement in 1995.

The design of the fountain in the centre is based on a snowflake, which was the symbol of the 1984 Winter Olympic Games held in Sarajevo.

Over the years a number of nations and groups have constructed various memorials in the park in honour of their respective personnel.
