Series about Military Fitness Tests continues and this time it is the Irish Defence Forces Fitness Test.

Dear loyal readers of the EUFOR Forum, after the last troops that were here for exercise QR2020 have left for home, normal life came back to our camp but changes occurred outside. The number of COVID-19 cases is on the rise all over Europe as well as here in BiH, some states implemented again new lockdowns and on the 15th of November we had elections here in BiH.

Despite all of this certain activities were maintained by EUFOR: Besides the visit of Josep Borrell, the International Medal Parade and other events, this edition presents the Irish Military Fitness Tests, an interview with our Italian Covid-Specialist as well as the EUFOR Military Skills Competition that occurred in September at Camp Butmir.

Many thanks to all those that have contributed to our stories, but we must not rest on our laurels. We still need you to send us your stories for the next and future editions, so please get in contact with the PAO team if you have anything of interest to tell us.

EUFOR joins EU Sports Week 2020

Staying fit and healthy within the military should be a fun and social occasion. Even COVID restrictions allow EUFOR troops to exercise every day and challenge each other as part of EU Sports Week.

High Representative of the EU for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy visits Camp Butmir

On Saturday, 21 November, the High Representative of the European Union for Foreign Affairs and Security Policy and Vice-President of the European Commission, Josep Borrell, visited EUFOR Headquarters at Camp Butmir, Sarajevo, as part of his visit to Bosnia and Herzegovina on the 25th anniversary of the Agreement of the Dayton Accords.

He was welcomed by a Guard of Honour formed from EU and partner forces currently stationed at Camp Butmir. He then received a brief on EUFOR's mission in Bosnia and Herzegovina from COMEUFOR, Major General Trischak.

COMEUFOR briefed the High Representative on the main aspects of EUFOR's mission in Bosnia and Herzegovina, detailing the challenges and successes as EUFOR continues to support a Safe and Secure Environment and the collective and combined training of the Armed Forces of Bosnia and Herzegovina in line with the Operation ALTHEA mandate.

The Spanish politician met the two Spanish soldiers serving in EUFOR.

Major General Trischak stated:

“The Dayton Accords were a pivotal point in the history of Bosnia and Herzegovina enabling peace as a condition for progress towards European integration.”

EUFOR’s continued presence in the country is a message of the commitment of the EU contributing to the overall security framework in the country for the benefit of all the people of Bosnia and Herzegovina.”

The Security Council renewed authorization of EUFOR ALTHEA for 12 more months

On Thursday, 5 November, UN Security Council unanimously adopted resolution 2549 (2020) under Chapter VII of the United Nations Charter, welcoming the continued presence of EUFOR ALTHEA and the EU’s readiness at this stage to continue an executive military role to support Bosnia and Herzegovina authorities to maintain the safe and secure environment.

The resolution renews EUFOR’s mandate for 12 more months and recognises that EUFOR ALTHEA will have the main peace stabilisation role under the military aspects of the Dayton Peace Agreement.

QR2020 – From exercise success, to well earned rest

Having been serving in EUFOR for seven months and accomplishing successfully EUFOR's Exercise Quick Response 2020, the day arrived for the Hungarian Infantry Company and parts of the Austrian Contingent to go back home to their families and friends.

The Hungarian  Infantry Company left Camp Butmir already on Friday, 18 September. The Soldiers left in two shifts on the newly purchased cargo plane of the Hungarian Army, an Airbus A-319, while their equipment was sent home by trucks.

The leaving part of the Austrian  Contingent had its last day in Camp Butmir on Thursday, 24 October, leaving by bus.

The main body of the UK  troops, on the other hand left on Saturday, 26 September, not surprisingly, by plane. A few days later, Sarajevo International Airport was once again visited by a giant transport aircraft. On this occasion, they arrived to return a part of the remaining UK troops and vehicles that were deployed on QR2020.

COMEUFOR was at the airport to see the well drilled teams load the aircraft with the UK's Foxhound armoured vehicles and military recovery trucks.

On Thursday, 1 October, Sarajevo International Airport saw the arrival of a Royal Airforce C-17 Globemaster to pick up the last equipment used during QR2020.

Austrian Company high up in the air

On Thursday, 24 September, the Austrian Company from the EUFOR Multinational Battalion (MNBN) conducted helicopter boarding training, exercising their ability to quickly move personnel around Bosnia and Herzegovina.

The platoons of the company conducted a number of flights throughout the day, practicing their ability to rapidly load equipment and transport themselves with the helicopter.

The ability to move swiftly around Bosnia and Herzegovina is essential to EUFOR's capacity to assist local authorities if required. Training like this enables the MNBN not only to sharpen their skills but also to gain knowledge of their surroundings and the time required to reach a location.

Change of Command of EUFOR's Multinational Battalion

On Tuesday, 22 September, Camp Butmir saw the Change of Command of EUFOR's Multinational Battalion (CoC MNBN).

COMEUFOR, Major General Reinhard Trischak, handed the colours of the MNBN from Lieutenant Colonel Alfred Steingress to Lieutenant Colonel Daniel Wilfing to signify the Change of Command.

The incoming Commander, Lieutenant Colonel Daniel Wilfing is serving in Austria as the deputy commander of the 26th Mountain Infantry Battalion and brings experience from four deployments to international peace support operations.

He said at the ceremony:

"I am very proud to stand in front of you as the new Commander of the EUFOR Multinational Battalion."

Leading a battalion is not only an honour, but also comes with challenges and great responsibility. My aim is to keep up the high standards operating under the motto 'One Mission, One Team'."

The CoC MNBN was also the occasion to decorate 130 soldiers with the EU Common Security and Defence Policy Medal for Operation EUFOR Althea to formally acknowledge the contribution the soldiers on parade made to the success of EUFOR. The medal is engraved with the Latin phrase 'Pro Pace Unum', meaning 'United for Peace'.

Interview with MNBN Commander

What are your feelings today, regarding the Change of Command event and your future mission?

I am very proud to be the Commander of the Multinational Battalion. It's certainly a great honor and also a great responsibility. Having soldiers from three and possibly even six different nations under command is a challenge.

Working in a multinational team makes understanding, respect and mutual support mandatory. So I believe working as a team and not in singular manner is the best way reaching a high quality in the performance. That's why the main effort for me in the near future will be forming a good team as soon as possible, to be able to fulfil all the challenges that follow in highly-grade manner.

What are the main tasks of the Multinational Battalion?

The main tasks of the Multinational Battalion are to ensure the security of Camp Butmir in Sarajevo. As well as to maintain the visibility of EUFOR around Bosnia and Herzegovina, so that the local communities can be assured of the presence and support of EUFOR. We also provide a Quick Reaction Force to support the local authorities, if the situation requires it. Very important to us are also the combined trainings with the Armed Forces of BiH.

What are your expectations for the next six months?

In the first phase it certainly will be an exciting time until each of us, especially in the MNBN staff but also in the companies, will have settled and found his place

Education:

Graduation 1994 from the Austrian Maria Theresia Military Academy in Wiener Neustadt.

From 2013 to 2015 attending master program "Master of Arts in Military Leadership, MA" at the Austrian National Defence Academy.

Career:

First after graduation I was serving as Platoon Commander and afterwards as a Company Cdr in the 2th Reconnaissance Battalion from 1994 to 2002.

From 2002 until now spending the time in 26th Mountain Infantry Battalion at last as second in command of the battalion.

Deployments:

Participation in 3 tours. All of them in KOSOVO, at last serving as Deputy National Contingent Commander and Chief of Staff of the Austrian contingent.

within the unit. After this process of "Forming" my further expectation is that the work will be intensive and challenging, but I'm convinced that we will be able to succeed.

Success in our work depends on how we are able to act as team, because that's a very important characteristic of military. So my message to my soldiers is that everybody should try to act as a teamplayer, which means to sometimes give up individual needs to guarantee common success.

Woman in Command

Soldiers, airmen and sailors based at the EUFOR Headquarters and throughout Bosnia and Herzegovina received their deployment medal on Friday, 23 October, a sunny autumn morning at Camp Butmir.

The medal parade for over 250 servicemen and women from 12 different nations was commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Asli Gulesen from Turkey.

She said:

“It was a great honour for me to be the commander of an international parade and to receive the Althea medal with all the experiences and memories I have gained”.

Just a few days before the 20th anniversary of the UN Security Council Resolution on Women, Peace and Security, EUFOR is proud that the medal parade was commanded by a female officer.

The formal ceremony was presided over by Commander EUFOR Major General Reinhard Trischak, who thanked the troops on parade for their effort and dedication to maintain a safe and secure environment.

The medal, bearing the name of the EU Operation Althea was first awarded in 2004 to every international member who serves with EUFOR. It is inscribed with the Latin phrase “Pro pace unum”, meaning “United for peace”.

UN Women Peace and Security 20th Anniversary

One week after Lieutenant Colonel Asli Gulesen from Turkey commanded EUFOR’s International Medal Parade, an event in the Armed Forces of BiH Army Hall in Sarajevo took place on Friday, 30 October.

It celebrated the anniversary of a landmark UN Resolution. The adoption of the UN Security Council Resolution 1325 on 31 October 2000 reaffirmed the importance of women in the prevention and resolution of conflict on a global stage.

The resolution also specifically addressed how women and girls are disproportionately impacted by violent conflict and recognises the critical role that women can and already do play in peacebuilding efforts.

Hosted by the Minister of Defence, Dr. Sifet Podžić and attended by Armed Service and civilian agencies, the event aimed to shine a light on the auspicious milestone.

During his speech at the event COMEUFOR said:

“I am glad that EUFOR could provide support on this path. EUFOR has partnered the MOD and the Armed Forces to implement UNSCR 1325 for mutual benefit. Whilst still ensuring that EUFOR followed this important resolution in line with the EU’s core values.”

Speaking after the event, Major General Trischak acknowledged that the global work to fully implement the Resolution needs to continue, he said; “EUFOR comprehends the challenges and also recognises that we still have a way to go. We have collectively come a long way from its implementation 20 years ago, but let us all understand that the job is not done.”

EUFOR Military Skills Competition at Camp Butmir

After operating in different areas of BiH during EUFOR's annual Exercise Quick Response 2020, a Company of Austrian and a Company of UK soldiers decided to join forces on Friday 11 September, to test their combined military ability.

The competition was conceived by the men of A Company 3 Para who had enjoyed working within EUFOR's Multinational Battalion during the exercise.

Their Company Commander, Major Shaun Clarke said:

“For a lot of these men, it is the first time they have worked closely with another nation and it has been a rewarding period where we have all learned a great deal. The teams today have an equal mix of UK and Austrian soldiers, the winners will be the team who cooperate the best.”

Moving through a series of stances such as treating casualties, weapon assembly and a grenade throw, the teams had six hours to show the multinational instructors what they have learned. Carrying 20kg of kit and a weapon on a very hot day was the first challenge and overcoming any language barrier takes patience and consideration.

Talking to the instructors and watching the groups progress and collaborate around the circuit, it was extremely clear that the overall winner was ‘teamwork’.

Through intense preparation the soldiers were ready for all situations

My job is to coordinate and to provide all aspects of EUFOR manpower management, medical, logistic, CIS support for HQ EUFOR and EUFOR troops, as well as force protection and real life support at Camp Butmir.

I'm from Bulgaria and I serve in the Bulgarian army as a Head of Sector in Logistic Branch (J4) in Joint Forces Command. This is my second mission in BiH. Before this mission I have been in BiH as a part of SFOR.

First of all, I came here to contribute, although with little, to the peace and development of the Balkans in general, to which I also belong. No less reason is the opportunity to meet many interesting people and cultures from around the world.

Watching how the country recover over the years and when I am meeting with so many smiling and polite people, I am really happy to contribute to the development of this wonderful country.

The last show of old ammunition

On Tuesday, 8 October, soldiers from Austria, Hungary and Turkey are joined by the Armed Forces of BiH to witness the destruction of some old ammunition at a remote site near Glamoč, 130km west of Sarajevo.

A routine operation for the EUFOR Joint Military Affairs team based at Camp Butmir who specialise in this kind of work. EUFOR explosives disposal expert, Lieutenant Colonel Markus Haider said: “This was one of our more routine jobs but you can never take risks with old ordnance.”

The safe disposal of expired or newly discovered ammunition and explosives is a core role for EUFOR and the EOD teams of the AF BiH.

EUFOR delivering Mine Risk Education

EUFOR’s mine risk education teams were busy in the first week of November in and around Sarajevo. The education programme delivered by Liaison Observation Team (LOT) Novo Sarajevo has been restricted by the COVID pandemic, but EUFOR understands the importance of these classes.

EUFOR LOT Novo Sarajevo Commander said:

“We always take COVID measures like social distancing very seriously with these classes and it is important that we keep the education ticking over.”

Six Police Officers attended the first class presented by Izet Eljsani and 23 members of the Civil Protection team had the luxury of an empty theatre in Stari Grad for the presentation by Adnan Arnautlija.

COMEUFOR reviews Quick Reaction Force

COMEUFOR was given the opportunity to witness the skills and drills of the Multi-national Battalion (MNBN).

An element of the MNBN is always on permanent call at the EUFOR base and acts as the Quick Reaction Force (QRF) to respond to any situation 24 hours a day. On the day of COMEUFOR's inspection the QRF was formed from the Turkish Company who were keen to show their Commander how slick their manoeuvres are once activated.

Starting the tour with a look inside the Headquarters, the staff responsible for the Command and Control of the MNBN showed Major General Trischak how they plan and coordinate activity and then gave the order to scramble the Quick Reaction Force.

Assembling quickly with their vehicles, the Turkish Platoon Commander, Lieutenant Oğuzhan Güngör, presented the contingent to COMEUFOR who was clearly impressed with the speed in which they responded and the professional way they handled their equipment.

Speaking directly with the soldiers, COMEUFOR was keen to understand how often they practiced their reaction times as it was very clear the intensive training has paid off.

Military Fitness Tests of EUFOR nations

Special thanks go to Captain Steve Byrne, S1 of the HQ CAMP CMDT, for providing us with explanations and pictures.

Dear EUFOR comrades, in the last two editions we presented first the Austrian and then the Polish Military Fitness Test. The series continues and this time it is the Irish Defence Forces Fitness Test.

As the Irish Defence Forces define on their homepage:

Physical Fitness: “a set of attributes that an individual has or achieves that relates to their ability to perform physical activity”.

Whereas Military Fitness is “the ability to respond instantly and effectively to the physical and psychological demands of combat with a minimum of distress and to return to a normal healthy state once the demand ceases”.

Physical fitness is a basic requirement of Military life. As every other Physical Fitness test as well, this one is also designed to assess the candidate’s current level of physical fitness. It is composed of three aspects.

EUFOR Multinational Battalion trained with Armed Forces of BiH

A platoon of soldiers from EUFOR's Multinational Battalion have been living with and training with their partners from the Armed Forces of BiH. The 5 day period of cooperation, from the 12 to 16 October, built on relationships fostered during the annual EUFOR exercise involving soldiers from 20 nations.

Joining up this time in the south of the country near Bileća, the two teams shared ideas to coordinate a complex serial in challenging conditions.

The Platoon Commander of

2nd Battalion, 4th AFBiH Brigade, First Lieutenant Srđan Remetić said:

“The exercise scenarios were urban type operations, so entering and securing an isolated compound. There is always something new to learn from the Austrian unit and the way they deal with a particular situation.”

The learning process is always a two-way process with combined operations with the EUFOR troops appreciating the opportunity to share experiences. First Lieutenant Tim Möller, the Platoon Commander of A-Coy, EUFOR MNBN, shared the observations of his AFBiH comrades and said:

“Training together is essential and we demonstrated that by working on an objective in an urban area with a mixed EUFOR and AFBiH team. The cooperation was great, the soldiers were really motivated, even though the weather conditions were not perfect but they did very, very well.”

Through the course of October the Multinational Battalion conducted various trainings with AF BiH. Originally they started on the platoon level in October to proceed with the company level in November but the company level was recently cancelled until further notice due to the ongoing COVID Situation.

COVID-19 Specialist Major Pasquale Giannelli: “It is an honour to work for EUFOR”

Major Pasquale Giannelli from the ‘Pozzuolo del Friuli’ Brigade, in Gorizia, and Major T. Marino, from the ‘Julia’ Brigade, in Udine, are both military doctors from the north eastern region of Italy. Due to their first-hand knowledge and experience of dealing with the COVID-19 crisis in Italy they have been deployed to Bosnia and Herzegovina (BiH) to assist local hospitals to implement best practice to help the local response. Before Major G. Pasquale left EUFOR he was happy to answer some questions.

When will you finally go back home? You were supposed to leave after three months yet you are still here!

Yes. It is right. It was supposed to leave in August, but I leave in the end of November, my successor will arrive on 25 November. I am looking forward to hug my family soon, but it is also an honor to be and work here.

Do you have a family who is waiting for you?

Yes. I do. I have a family with two children: 1 daughter (3 years old) and 1 son (1 year old). They are waiting for my return home.

How is it for them that you are still here?

It is not easy. For my wife it is very demanding and tiring. Not only she has to look after our children, but she also has to support my mother who is also ill.

On how many missions have you been so far? Have they all been medical missions or did you deploy in different military functions?

This is my 7th mission abroad. I was in Asia and Balkans. In any case my deployment was with medical aims, in a Role 1 or in a Command Staff.

Can you give us a brief overview on your work here in BiH since you arrived, what did you do?

Since May 2020 I have been here in BiH to share with doctors and nurses from all over the country the experience gained during the first wave of pandemic that took place in Italy last spring. I will soon have visited almost all the hospitals in BiH.

Major Pasqualle Giannelli getting ready at the Banja Luka Hospital

Where exactly have you been around in BiH?

I've travelled all of BiH from north to south, east to west.

Now after six months of serving here at EUFOR, what is your résumé about your work here? What are your experiences?

It is an opportunity for professional and personal growth and it is also a both personal and a professional experience. I have learned different cultures and ways of thinking.

But also it was a professional experience because there was a share of experience about the therapy, treatment and medical aspects to be used to defeat the coronavirus. The issue of COVID-19 affects the whole world. I have learnt that to fight this pandemic if we're all united together that we can defeat the virus.

Could you experience many improvements in the BiH hospitals? What does still need to be done? What are the biggest deficits that you experienced in the health system in BiH?

The medical staff and nurses of hospitals throughout Bosnia have shown great professionalism and love for their work. They reach European standards. For example, there are doctors who have studied and are updating in Europa and America. As in many country, could be necessary more personnel and more material (equipment, beds, PCR-test...) in order to better cope with the emergency.

How did you like to work for EUFOR? How do you like BiH?

It is an honor to work for EUFOR. Great professionals who give the maximum of their commitment. Yes, I like to work for EUFOR. I have the opportunity to work in an international field to improve my knowledge and experience

What are your personal experiences here and how did you spend your free time?

This mission is an opportunity for professional and personal growth. I hope to make a small contribution by sharing my experience with medical staff and nurses throughout BiH. In my free time I practice sports, walks and whenever possible and in compliance with the anti-covid-19 regulations I try to get to know the beauty of this country.

What are your future plans? Any other mission coming up soon?

My first thought goes to the family that has supported me in these long months. Then I will restart to work in Italy both as a military doctor and as a family doctor. In about a year, I'm scheduled for a new mission abroad. It is my work.

I am looking forward to hug my family soon, but it is also an honor to be and work here.

Fictional TV news spot produced by EUFOR Public Affairs

In order to train the coordinated collaboration work of the Staff of the HQ, the MNBN, LCC and Air Operations, a scenario based exercise was held this week in Camp Butmir.

The exercise was based around the scenario of an earthquake in the Mostar region impacting the local population, infrastructure and transport links. All teams within

From the planning of the movement of personnel and equipment to engaging with the Local and state authorities and media engagement it was a critical analysis on the preparedness of EUFOR to respond to a Humanitarian Aid and Disaster Relief (HADR) incident.
